

Dr. Kriti Jain is a leading management expert with a unique interdisciplinary background specializing in decision-making and risk management, especially in the strategic contexts of top leadership and public policy. Dubbed as the Oscars of Management Thinking, Thinkers50 has recognized her as a global thinker with the potential to change the world of theory and practice.

A tenured associate professor at IE Business School in Spain, Kriti is a recipient of several prestigious grants from the European Union, United States, and Spanish government for her research on decision-making. She is a PhD in Decision Sciences from INSEAD (consistently ranked amongst top 3 in Financial Times global rankings).

Prof. Jain is a champion of diversity and inclusion especially in emerging markets and has developed training programs on women leadership and entrepreneurship including in collaboration with United Nations. Her Indian background, combined with work experiences in US & Europe, provides her with a multi-dimensional lens to issues of business, education, and society. She is on the advisory board of several businesses, is a public speaker, and a regular media commentator.

Her research work has been published in leading science, management, economics, and psychology journals including, Management Science, Harvard Business Review, Human Resource Management, Journal of Behavioral Decision Making, and Journal of Operations Management.

Professor Jain's courses and corporate training programs on Strategic Decision-Making, Leadership, Managing Talent, and Negotiations conducted for business leaders, lawyers, entrepreneurs, and doctoral scholars have consistently received top ratings and her cases have won best-selling awards.

Before joining full-time academics, Kriti worked with McKinsey and Co. on risk management projects focusing on energy and materials sector for global clients based in Europe and Middle East.

- Recognized as one of the top emerging global management thinker by Thinkers50.
  - Winner of The Case Centre Bestselling Case Award.
  - Recipient of European Union's Marie Curie Research Grant of Euros 100,000.
  - PhD in Management from INSEAD.
  - Recipient of Picker Interdisciplinary Research Grant on Decision-Making of USD 120,000.
  - Published academic articles in world's leading Management and Science journals and cases with Harvard Business Publishing.
  - Trained women entrepreneurs from Africa on a project with United Nations.
  - Invited Speaker at World Knowledge Forum in S. Korea.
  - Editorial Board Member of Journal of Behavioral Decision Making.
  - Advisory Board Member of several start-ups.
  - Worked with McKinsey & Co. on risk management projects for clients in Europe and Middle East.
-